Control of the House.

New York, 15.—Washington special: Democrats have not given up the hope of capturing the next House of Representatives. Already notices have been eaved of fouriesen contests, and as Clerk Adams has the making up of the roll call, these centests give great significance to Springer's recent remarks in this city, when the completion of the next House was discussed, that all he cared about was to know how Adams would atand. The republican congressional committee has been informed that democrats will contest the following districts: First and Second, Alabams; First and Second and Sixth, Mississippi. There is no reason to be lieve, however, that rapublicans will lose control of the House through these contests.
